

Assignment No. 15

Due: 13:15 on Tuesday 21 April 2015 via email

There is no word limit/requirement for these exercises. Your responses may be in English, French, Spanish, German, Arabic, or any other language you are comfortable writing in. The grammar, spelling, and prescriptive conventions are not evaluated for the assignment. You do not need to edit, revise a number of times, or attend in any special way to form or language. You should just write in a way that is clear to you. You are welcome to use bullet points. You do not need to write complete sentences or in paragraph form complete with transitions.

Homework should be submitted by 15:15 on the day it is due. There is no late homework accepted. All written assignments must be typed using 12 pt Times New Roman or 11 pt Arial font with 1" margins. All assignments must be send in one of the following formats: .doc, .docx, .txt, .tex, .pdf, .rtf, .odt, .dot. Remember to cite all sources and use APA guidelines for the citations. Homework must also include your name, class, date, and assignment.

1 Group Project

In class on Thursday you will be brainstorming with your new group about the experiment you will run in the first half of the class. For the experiment possible experiment you might run, come up with a draft of the instructions (detailing the task you will ask participants to do), and at least ten target items. For example, if you are doing antonyms, you should come up with ten antonym pairs (e.g. alive–dead) that you will ask people. You will be working with a group to develop the task and stimuli list on Monday so it is important that you come prepared. The instructions and target items must be emailed as homework before class.
